

Austrian distribution box size manufacturer

AI Overview

Austria hosts a variety of manufacturers and suppliers specializing in distribution boxes, offering both standard and customized solutions for industrial and commercial applications.

Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

- BLECHA GmbH – An internationally active Austrian company, BLECHA specializes in aluminum profiles, systems, and accessories, including components for distribution boxes. They provide stock availability and delivery through their own fleet and freight forwarders, catering to industrial and commercial clients.
- PENGG KABEL – Focused on cable infrastructure, PENGG KABEL manufactures components for distribution systems at two production sites in Austria. Their offerings include high-quality distribution boxes suitable for electrical and industrial applications.
- GEOplast – This Austrian company develops customized products for various applications, including distribution boxes. They emphasize high-quality, tailored solutions in collaboration with clients, making them suitable for specialized industrial needs.
- FAB ProWork – A certified B2B partner providing contract manufacturing in metal, plastic, and electrical engineering, including assembly and finishing of distribution boxes. They offer comprehensive services from production to delivery.

B2B Directories and Marketplaces

- Europages Austria lists over 60 suppliers and manufacturers of distribution boxes, allowing direct contact with wholesalers and producers for inquiries or bulk orders.
- Clutch.co and Ensun provide rankings and profiles of top distribution and logistics companies in Austria, which may include suppliers of distribution boxes or related distribution services.

Additional Considerations

When selecting a supplier, consider:

- Customization options: Some companies like GEOplast and FAB ProWork offer tailored solutions for specific industrial requirements.
- Delivery and logistics: BLECHA and other suppliers...
