

Cable tray vertical upward bend manufacturer price

AI Overview

Vertical upward bend cable trays are available from multiple manufacturers, with prices influenced by material, size, customization, and order volume. Manufacturers and Suppliers Several manufacturers and suppliers offer vertical bend cable trays: Universal Engineering and Fabricators (Mumbai, India) provides vertical bend cable trays with verified pricing and contact details for bulk or individual orders. SAI Cable Tray India offers a wide range of vertical inner and outer bend cable trays, manufactured from premium raw materials, meeting national and international quality standards. Alibaba suppliers provide durable, customizable vertical bend cable trays suitable for industrial applications, with options for OEM and bulk orders. OBO offers screw connection vertical bends for cable trays, suitable for modular installations. Price Factors The cost of vertical upward bend cable trays depends on several factors: Material: Stainless steel and fiberglass trays are more expensive due to durability and specialized properties, while mild steel or aluminum options are generally cheaper. Size and Load Capacity: Larger trays or those designed for higher cable loads cost more. Customization: Custom designs, additional accessories like dividers or covers, and OEM specifications increase the price. Order Volume: Bulk orders often receive discounts, reducing per-unit cost. Typical Price Range While exact prices vary by supplier, material, and size, vertical bend cable trays in India typically range from INR 1,500 to INR 5,000 per unit for standard sizes, with higher-end stainless steel or custom trays costing more. International suppliers may quote in USD, often starting around $20–$50 per unit for standard configurations, with bulk or OEM orders negotiable. Recommendations Determine the required tray size and load capacity based on your cable installation needs. Consider material selection for dura...
