

How much does it cost to supply fiberglass cable trays in the Middle East

AI Overview

Fiberglass (FRP/GRP) cable trays in the Middle East typically cost between $15 and $50 per meter, depending on type, size, and project requirements. Price Range and Factors The cost of FRP/GRP cable trays varies widely based on material, tray type, size, and supplier. Standard ladder or perforated trays generally fall in the $15–$50 per meter range, with bulk orders potentially reducing the unit cost. Key factors influencing price include:

- Material type: FRP/GRP trays are corrosion-resistant and lightweight, making them more expensive than basic plastic trays but cheaper than stainless steel alternatives.
- Tray type: Ladder trays for heavy-duty cables cost more than perforated or mesh trays due to higher load capacity.
- Dimensions: Width, height, and thickness affect material usage and cost. Standard widths range from 50 mm to 1200 mm, and thicknesses from 1 mm to 2.5 mm.
- Accessories and fittings: Bends, tees, reducers, covers, clamps, and connectors add to the total cost.
- Customization: Special lengths, widths, or coatings for UV resistance, marine environments, or chemical exposure can increase prices.
- Shipping and installation: Transport costs in the Middle East and labor for installation can significantly affect the overall project cost.

Regional Considerations

- UAE: Suppliers like Ferrotech and Bonn Gulf provide FRP cable trays suitable for industrial, marine, and petrochemical applications, emphasizing durability and corrosion resistance.
- Saudi Arabia: Companies such as Saudigrate and FTC offer FRP trays compliant with international standards (BS50085, NEMA VE 1, ASTM, UL), with standard lengths of 2.44–3 meters and custom options available.

Cost-Saving Tips

- Bulk orders: Ordering large quantities can reduce per-meter cost.
- Standard sizes: Using standard lengths and widths minimizes customization charges.
- Material selection: Choosing FRP over stainless st...
