

Namibian optical fiber cable supplier

AI Overview

Key Namibian companies involved in optical fiber cables include Powerline Fibre, Swanib Cables, and Oryx Fibre Infrastructure. Powerline Fibre specializes in fiber optic installations across Namibia, offering services from acquisition and planning to installation and sign-off for both Single Dwelling Units (SDUs) and Multi Dwelling Units (MDUs). They provide various installation methods, including trenched, aerial, and micro-trenching solutions, and operate nationwide from their main office in Windhoek. Their expertise covers commercial, residential, and business projects, ensuring compliance with health and safety standards. Swanib Cables is a leading distributor of electric and fiber optic cables in Namibia, serving the mining, utilities, infrastructure, and telecom sectors. They have over 20 years of experience and supply high-quality fiber optic cables from reputable international manufacturers. Swanib caters to multi-national mining operations, government institutions, and private companies, providing a wide range of cabling solutions for both power and data transmission. Oryx Fibre Infrastructure operates an open-access fiber optic network in Namibia, owning and managing long-distance backhaul and long-haul fiber infrastructure. They provide connectivity services to telecom operators, ISPs, media companies, educational institutions, municipalities, and government organizations. Oryx Fibre is connected to Swakopmund landing stations, giving access to international submarine cables like Equiano and WACS, ensuring reliable and redundant network routes. They offer regulated Layer 1 & Layer 2 services and 24/7 network monitoring. Additional Suppliers Other suppliers, such as Age Technologies, provide fiber optic cables in Namibia sourced from international manufacturers like Rockwell, Schneider, and Siemens. They focus on professional services and supply solutions for industrial, commercial, and telecommunications applications, including fault-tolerant and self-...
