

North Africa Micro-Module Data Center Manufacturer

AI Overview

Key manufacturers offering micro and modular data center solutions suitable for North Africa include Schneider Electric, Delta, Northstar Enterprise + Defense, and INTUVA, providing scalable, rapid-deployment, and energy-efficient systems. Leading Manufacturers and Solutions

1. Schneider Electric – EcoStruxure Micro Data Center
Schneider Electric offers EcoStruxure Micro Data Centers, which are compact, fully integrated solutions with power, cooling, security, and management systems. They support various configurations (12U, 18U, 24U, 42U) and are compatible with Cisco HyperFlex, Dell EMC VxRail, and HPE SimpliVity. These systems are designed for rapid deployment, predictive management, and energy efficiency, making them suitable for commercial and industrial environments in North Africa.
2. Delta – InfraSuite Micro Data Center
Delta's InfraSuite is a highly integrated modular solution that fits within racks, supporting IT loads under 20kVA and spaces under 50 square meters. It integrates UPS, cooling, power distribution, fire control, and intelligent monitoring. Delta's micro data centers are ideal for regional offices, small businesses, and edge computing, offering high availability, scalable configurations (N, N+1, 2N), and rapid deployment.
3. Northstar Enterprise + Defense
Northstar specializes in turnkey modular and mobile data centers for enterprise, telecom, defense, and government applications. Their pre-engineered units are designed for speed, security, and operational continuity, with mobile platforms suitable for remote or austere environments. These solutions can be rapidly deployed and scaled according to operational needs, making them relevant for North African markets with infrastructure variability.
4. INTUVA – Micro and Modular Data Centers
INTUVA provides agile, scalable, and cost-effective modular data centers, from single-rack...
