

What is the price of Swiss optical cable

AI Overview

Optical fiber cables in Switzerland range from around 39 CHF for short consumer cables to over $32,000 per ton for imported bulk fiber cables. Retail Prices For consumer and small-scale use, Swisscom offers a 10-meter 1 Gbit/s fiber optic cable for 39 CHF, with free delivery for orders over 50 CHF, suitable for home internet connections. Retailers like Distrelec Switzerland and CCM provide a wide range of fiber optic cables, including singlemode, multimode, indoor, outdoor, and microcables, with options for pre-assembled connectors (LC, SC, E-2000) and accessories for professional installations. Prices vary depending on cable length, type, and connector configuration. Wholesale and Import Prices According to recent data, the average import price of optical fiber cables in Switzerland was $32,293 per ton in April 2025, reflecting an 11% increase from the previous month. Prices fluctuate based on the country of origin, with China being the most expensive at $55,945 per ton and Spain among the lowest at $11,429 per ton. Export prices averaged $27,411 per ton in April 2025, showing a slight decrease compared to previous months. These figures are relevant for bulk purchases or industrial-scale projects. Factors Affecting Prices Cable type: Singlemode cables are generally more expensive than multimode due to higher performance over long distances. Environment: Outdoor cables with protective sheaths against moisture, rodents, or UV exposure cost more than indoor cables. Connectors and assembly: Pre-assembled cables with connectors ready for installation are priced higher than raw cable spools. Supplier and delivery: Local Swiss suppliers may offer faster delivery and technical support, which can influence overall cost. Summary For small-scale or home use, expect prices around 39–100 CHF for short pre-assembled cables, while industrial or bulk imports can cost tens of thousands of dollars per ton depending on origin and specifications. Swiss suppliers like CCM, Distrelec, and Swisscom provide...
