

Where to buy network server racks in Italy

AI Overview

You can purchase network server racks in Italy from HPE Store Italy, IT-RACK, and ManhattanShop.it, all offering a wide range of racks for IT and industrial applications. HPE Store Italy offers enterprise-grade server racks suitable for data centers and high-density IT environments. Their G2 Enterprise and G2 Advanced series provide features such as physical security, structural integrity, cooling optimization, and cable management, with capacities up to 1360 kg. HPE racks are available for online purchase and come with a 10-year limited warranty, making them ideal for businesses seeking durable, pre-configured or fully customizable racks. You can explore their catalog and order directly from the HPE Italy website. IT-RACK specializes in custom and industrial server racks, including cabinets for telecom operators, IT service companies, and installations in dusty or industrial environments. Their racks offer high IP protection, GDPR-compliant enclosures, and secure locking systems for DVR/NVR equipment. IT-RACK products can be purchased through their distribution network across Italy and the EMEA region, which provides guidance on selecting the right 19" rack cabinets and complete IT infrastructure solutions. Their website also allows direct inquiries for custom solutions. ManhattanShop.it provides a wide selection of server racks and accessories, including wall-mounted, floor-standing, and open-frame racks. They offer products with various IP protection levels suitable for both industrial and office environments. The store caters to both private customers and businesses, and their online catalog allows easy browsing and purchase of racks and related networking accessories. Summary For purchasing network server racks in Italy, you can consider: HPE Store Italy for enterprise-grade, high-capacity racks with warranty...
